Disputes hold-up

County Engineer George Wier this week disputed statements attributed to him that federal aid for the Best 1 section of the Lower Bay Road is being withheld as a punitive measure toward Supervisor H. G. Dean.

Wier said he had been repeating "pure rumor" when he told the supervisors earlier this month that was the reason U.S. approval had not been given to the Best 1 project.

He said it was proper waiting to state the Best 1 section was "pending approval." Wier said he submitted the plans to the state aid division of the State Highway Department, which in turn sent details on to the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, about "four or five months ago."

Those plans are still with the federal bureau's district office in Jackson and have not been forwarded to Atlanta, he said. Wier declined to express a view whether this was a long or short stay in Jackson. He simply objected to being quoted in the Echo as to the reason for the delay.

Wier cited other road jobs in progress in the county.

Among the NASA re-location projects Best 2 has completed 2.2 miles of blacktopping on the Bienville-Cahoon Road, a total project of 4.5 miles; while in Best 5 two bridges are slated on the Waveland-Clermont Harbor Road which is presently closed.

At Wier's request the board authorized R.G. Hubbard, president, to enter a supplementary contract with H.R. Wilson Construction Co. of Long Beach transferring the sand and gravel pits assigned him on the Rocky Hill-Standard Road projects to ones more accessible, so long as the cost does not exceed the original contract.

The Delta Democrat-Times

Rankin County and Brandon in particular showed how it ought to be done last week.

Civil rights groups worked up a freedom march to protest various grievances as they saw them. The march went on for two days, winding through a county which has seen church-burnings in the past and which has its share of radical segregationists of the bomb 'em now variety.

So what happened? Certainly not what has been seen in Selma and on the road to Montgomery. Nor even what has been going on in Bogalusa.

Instead the marchers were given full protection by state and local authorities on their march, then were courteously received in Brandon and at the county courthouse there. As the New York Times reporter wrote:

The seemingly irresistible civil rights movement ran into an immovable wall of official kindness in this central Mississippi town today.

The story was well buried within the Times Sunday paper. If it had been the more usual kind of story, it would have been page one copy.

There are still those who are quite willing to provide that kind of copy. But they didn't down in Rankin County, and it should be noted. That it is also a matter of basic decency and the observance of constitutional rights, as well as smart tactics, should not be overlooked. We may travel strange roads, and travel for strange reasons, but little by little we are approaching the place we should have been long ago.

SHIPWRECK PARTY

Costumed in attire suitable to shipwrecked mariners Bay-Waveland Yacht Club members will assemble for the senior shipwreck party at 9 p.m. on Saturday at the club. Music by the Sounds Band, prizes to winning costumes, and a Balling of the Blige at 7 p.m. will round off the evening.

Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—When the Gemini astronauts were transferred all the way from the Florida coast, where the Wasp docked, to Houston, half-way across the continent, most people missed the personal reason why.

Capt. Kennedy, formerly Cape Canaveral, built on the Florida sands with many headaches, heartaches, and several billion dollars, suddenly found itself playing second fiddle to Houston. The motel was emptied, the automobile rental agencies faced difficulties, the area around Cape Kennedy slumped.

The credit—or blame—for this does not go to the Texan in the White House but to the persistence and power of one Congressman—Rep. Albert Thomas, Democrat, of Houston.

Thomas occupies the strategic position of No. 2 Democrat on the House Appropriations Committee and has used that power to switch government contract after contract to Houston until he has helped make that city one of the most prosperous in the nation.

In latter months, Congressman Thomas has been a pathetic physical figure. His body ridden with cancer, he has sometimes not been able to rise from his chair at committee meetings. He is helped to his feet and escorted out of the room as the hearings close.

Cancer has been with him for some time and he has been subjected to heavy doses of cobalt. The ordinary person would have retired long ago. But Thomas has hung on, determined to continue his domination over the committee which partially controls the purse-strings of the nation. Last December he flew back to Houston in a special airplane for further treatment, and was not expected to return. However, he continues on the job.

And the big celebration in Houston, plus the transfer of space activities from Cape Kennedy to Houston, is a tribute to his persistence, his Congressional seniority, and his personal, pernicious, political power.

Thomas's power also illustrates the tacit understanding between the first Southern President in 100 years and committee chairmen, chiefly elected from the South. Thomas of Houston has long been the supervisor of Congressmen in the White House, long before the days of the segregation bill. He is now quoted as speaking to the executive in charge of the various projects building projects in the South. He is now quoted as speaking to the executive in charge of the various projects building projects in the South.

A Conservative View By James J. Kilpatrick

For a good many years, conservatives have been growing that "federal aid means federal control," and liberals have been snapping back that Federal aid means no such thing. You used to be able to work up a lively fight on the matter. No more. With every month that passes, it becomes increasingly evident that here, at least, the conservative warnings were sound.

The President's May 26 message on highway beautification is the most recent example of the changing technique in action.

Mr. Johnson began with a lyric tribute to nature and beauty. The new concept of conservation, he said, must seek "to put beauty within reach of those who live in our cities, and make it part of the daily life of every American." In times past, he went on to say, Federal programs have sought to encourage the states to achieve beautification voluntarily. The voluntary approach hadn't worked. But if the states wouldn't do it for love, he would make them do it for money.

"Therefore I recommend that states—as a condition of receiving federal-aid highway grants after Jan. 1, 1968—institute control over out-door advertising along those sections of the interstate and primary systems not zoned or used predominantly for commercial or industrial purposes. Existing signs would have to be removed by July 1, 1970."

The same rule would apply to junkyards: "I recommend that as a condition of receiving federal aid, states must exercise control along the entire interstate and primary systems. No new junkyards could be established within 1,000 feet of the pavement and visible to the motorist. Existing junkyards would have to be effectively screened or removed by July 1, 1970."

So, too, with federal funds for landscaping. For some years the states have been permitted to use three per cent of their federal aid funds for beautification, but they have put the money to other highway purposes. "Here is another case where a voluntary program was not sufficient to carry out the intent of congress. Therefore, I propose that states be required to use this three per cent for natural beauty."

This whip-cracking approach to highway beautification is being applied in countless other fields. Southern States especially are feeling the lash in the matter of federal funds for aid to education. Under regulations promulgated by the U.S. Commissioner of Education, regulations that go far beyond the language of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, every county and city in the South is being compelled to file a desegregation plan or face the loss of federal funds. These localities have been put on warning that desegregation within the classrooms is only the beginning; the next step will require desegregation of facilities as a prerequisite for continued federal aid.

The same pattern emerges in various programs of federal grants for urban renewal, public housing, and the like. In his housing message of March 2, the President outlined the picture: "The federal government cannot, and should not, require the communities which make up a metropolitan area to cooperate against their will in the solution of their problems. But we can offer incentives. . . ." And Mr. Johnson went on to spell them out: Localities would have to develop certain long-range programs "as a condition of federal assistance." He proposed $100 million in grants for community facilities, but "these grants will be contingent upon comprehensive, areawide planning. . . ."

It is true that some degree of federal control historically has been exercised over federal-aid programs in the past. By and large, however, the controls have been gentle. State and local plans for "matching" programs generally have been approved in Washington without great quibbling. Often the potential federal subsidies were not large, and state and local governments could pass them up without particular pain.

All that is changing now. In one field after another, the lure of "federal money" becomes overwhelming. It becomes politically impossible for local governing bodies to spurn a federal grant. Too much money is involved. Besides, state and local budgets are now heavily dependent upon subsidies from Washington; if these subsidies were abruptly cancelled, as Mr. Johnson threatens in the case of highway funds, it would be nothing short of catastrophic. The states will do what Big Daddy demands. They are hooked; they cannot wiggle free.

For the past 30 years, since these programs of "federal aid" really began to multiply, the states and cities have been nudged along by carrot and stick. Today the delectable carrot diminishes; and the Johnsonian stick gets longer all the time.

Rivers of South Carolina, suddenly moved to hamstringing the White House by inserting an amendment in the military construction bill preventing the executive from closing military bases without the permission of the House and Senate Armed Services Committees. Every Congressman, of course, demands that military bases be kept going in his district.

This is a battle which dates back to the days of Herbert Hoover, who proposed closing the old Indian forts of the Far West. He got such a howl from Congress that most of them remained open.

Ironically, the challenge to President Johnson on bases has come from Rivers of South Carolina, an alcoholic, whom his committee colleagues have urged to stay on the wagon at least long enough to win his fight with the first Southern President in 100 years.

RESHAPING NEW YORK 1853

Back in 1954, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. was urged by Teidy Kheel, the labor mediator, Debs Meyers, the PR man to Mayor Wagner, and David Karr, who used to work for me, to run for mayor of New York. He declined, called the mayoralty a dead end street, ran for attorney general of New York instead, and got beat.

Today Franklin is available to run for the job he previously didn't want and, if he does run, it will reshape political history on two fronts. They are:

Front No. 1 - will be a religious battle. For no Democratic protestant has been elected mayor of New York in this century. New York mayors have been Catholics.

At present, Democratic forces are maneuvering to nominate District Attorney Frank Hogan, able and popular but who doesn't want to run; or Frank O'Connor, Queens district attorney; or Deputy Mayor Ed Cavanagh, whose sister, Barbara, Mayor Wagner expects to marry.

Front No. 2 - will be a grab for political power by the Kennedy clan, using FDR Jr. as the front man. This will spotlight the poorly-concealed rivalry between the Kennedy brothers and the Johnson-Humphrey axis.

It will also remind the public that it was FDR Jr. who gave Hubert Humphrey the unkindest cut of all in the West Virginia primary against John F. Kennedy by criticizing his war record.

As Undersecretary of Commerce, FDR Jr. had some reason to hope that Johnson would promote him to the Cabinet after Luther Hodges retired as Secretary of Commerce. He didn't. At any rate, Franklin will now be Bobby Kennedy's candidate for mayor of New York. He also has the backing of the No. 1 power in New York, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, and the old boss of the Bronx, ex-Congressman Charles Buckley.

With a glorious name, the solid backing of Negro voters, and heavy support from Jewish voters, FDR Jr. might be able to overcome the anti-protestant precedent.

Whether he does or not, and whether he beats Rep. John Kennedy, able liberal Republican, for mayor, Bobby Kennedy will run in to fill the political vacuum left by the exit of Bob Wagner as mayor of New York. His appearance is a leg up toward putting another Kennedy in the White House.

Spin, please

Last week was the deadline for compliance with the new law barring wage discrimination based on sex. It passed in 1963, became effective for employers last year except in cases covered by collective bargaining agreements, where the law was June 11, 1965.

There have been few rulings and no final decisions on border line cases. Thus there are precedents to guide employers in compliance with the equivalent provision of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act which takes effect come July 2.

Title VII is much broader, outlawing "discrimination in the whole gamut of employee status from hiring to firing."

One of some of the questions which may arise is: If a qualified male applies for a job as an office clerk, does the boss have to hire him even if he thinks a good-looking, curly blonde is in front to greet clients and customers? Or a company which gives a paid maternity leave to women employees have to provide men with compensating benefit?

It constitutes illegal discrimination when a contract gives women the right to retire at age 65 and men until 65?

Don't we think the whole idea behind these laws is silly and said so when the Equal Pay Act was being considered in 1963. You may think the arguments given above are silly. Consider, however, two facts.

Law works both ways: i. e., you cannot discriminate because of a man's sex anymore than because of a woman's.

Recently, in an Atlanta speech on June 7 a Justice Department official is quoted as saying "that the Clubs can't discriminate against men who become females" (ughhh). He later said he wasn't supposed to be able to tell the difference between discrimination in hiring of males and females.

The official obviously disagrees with the song "Come Naturally" from the musical "Hairspray." The applicable lyric says "all you have to do was look."

Mask Is Off From Lynchburg (Va.) News

On March 15, 1964, this newspaper published a letter to the editor from the director of information of the National Council of Churches.

At the time, the readers of this paper had been conducting, by letters to the Editor, publication in the Forum, a running battle with the NCC. There were many who felt that the NCC was infiltrated by Communists, that many of its influential members and officials were long Communist-front agents and that the NCC was opposed to right-to-work laws.

The NCC letter set forth the programs of the organization and attempted to discredit its opponents. Among other things, it stated that the NCC had "never referred to right to work laws." It later claimed that the NCC is "not against right-to-work laws." As saying: "Union membership as a basis of continuing employment should be neither required nor forbidden by law."

This means, the NCC attempted to convey the impression that the NCC was NOT against right-to-work laws. And during the interim of 18 months, NCC spokesmen repeatedly denied that the NCC was against right-to-work laws. This statement has been made by NCC spokesmen in secret meetings and church groups in Lynchburg.

Last Friday, the NCC announced all pretenses and told a subcommittee holding hearings on a Johnson Administration proposal to kill right-to-work laws that the NCC was against right-to-work laws.

The NCC spokesmen, in a letter to the subcommittee, stated that the NCC was against right-to-work laws. This statement has been made by NCC spokesmen in secret meetings and church groups in Lynchburg.

Throughout the years, the NCC has pointed to this statement as "proof" that it was not against right-to-work laws!

But last Friday, an NCC spokesman testified that the statement really meant that the NCC was opposed to right-to-work laws!

Carothers gratuitously threw in another little bit of deception: he stressed that the decision to oppose the right to work laws was made by the NCC's general board, but the board did not purport to speak for the 31 member denominations or their 40 million members. At the same time, however, Carothers noted that the board was "broadly representative" of the member churches, thereby inferring that opposition to right-to-work laws was broadly supported by the 40 million members.

Carothers said the NCC governing body's support of the Johnson Administration effort to destroy right-to-work laws stemmed from a belief that "the effort to establish the largest possible measure of just, cooperative and orderly relationships in a man's daily work is witness to and reflection of Christian concern for his neighbor."

This is, to say the least, a strange concept of "Christian concern." Under the NCC's definition of such concern, a man should be forced to join a union, pay dues, endure union discipline, support alien political and economic beliefs, and give aid to the crime and corruption of union leaders or be denied a chance to earn a living!

So, once again, the NCC's duplicity, deception and deliberate distortion and misrepresentation of its true views has been exposed by its own spokesmen. It isn't the first time this has occurred, as we have pointed out time and time again. And it will not be the last.

The mask has again been removed from the other face of the NCC.

seeks an amendment to the county port body's enabling act to give it the same powers as those in Harrison and Jackson Counties. The bill was introduced at the last regular session but did not get through.

The board accepted the lone bid of $12,262.14 from Highland Ford for a new 10-ton dump truck for Beat 1 and the low figure of Southern Record Rebuilding and Manufacturing Co. for rebuilding Courthouse records. Southern bid $1,951 while Tom L. Ketchings Co. offered $3,471. It also voted a $135 full-page advertisement in the sports programs of the University of Southern Mississippi.

On the motion of H.G. Dean, Beat 1 supervisor, the board went into secret session to hear complaints lodged by Mrs. Alberta Hursey and her daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Hursey Walker, about conduct of a county employee. Also appearing were William Hursey, son of Mrs. Hursey, and her sister, Mrs. Ada Miller, all of Pearlinton.

Dolph Kellar, who was presiding in the absence of R.G. Hubbard, Jr., board president, concurred with Dean's request for an executive session, noting Hursey had prefaced his remarks with "MTO". Kellar said, "We don't want anything to hurt the county or hurt us with MTO."

Beat 1 Justice of the Peace Lester Hoyer confirmed afterwards that warrants had been sworn out by Mrs. Hursey and Mrs. Walker charging Pete Walker with assault and battery with intent to kill at Mrs. Miller's home last Friday. Hoyer said Walker is free on $1,000 bond and a hearing is set for July 5. Walker has charged his wife and Mrs. Hursey with simple assault and signed a warrant against Mrs. Miller for defamation of character. The women are out on $100 bond each.

Walker is supervisor for the county parcel operated by the supervisors under contract with Mississippi Test Facility.

Loffin was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital. A coroner's jury, empaneled by Justice of the Peace Nolan Ladner and composed of Deputy Chester Favre as bailiff, Sheriff Ladner, Woodrow LaFontaine, J.T. Jacobs, Harold Ryals, Lathan Garriga and E. Exmicio, meeting in Fabey-Whitfield Funeral Home, ruled death due to accidental electrocution.

Loffin, a native Mississippi and resident of Gulfport for the last 15 years, was employed by Malan-Koppers of New York which has the contract to construct the first portion of the S-IC test stand.

In another incident at 4 p.m. the same day, Salvador (Cy) Cuevas, 55, operator of a Fenton grocery, was taken to Hancock General Hospital for treatment of wounds received at the hands of an unknown assailant. Described as between 21 and 23 years of age, six-feet two inches tall, and weighing about 170 pounds, with dark hair and wearing a dark shirt and pants and white tennis shoes, he was driving a 1961 or '62 Impala with Texas license plates. The man struck Cuevas on the head with a blunt instrument after the storekeeper had bent over to check certain items selected by the man and placed on the counter for costing.

Cuevas was unable to describe the weapon used as the force of the blow knocked him to the floor and caused a wound requiring six stitches to close. The man fled the scene when Cuevas called to his sister Jessie for aid.

Escaping in his car in the direction of Pass Christian, via the Kiln-Fenton-Pass road, the culprit evaded hastily thrown-up road blocks but investigation towards his apprehension continues.

Sheriff Ladner, Chief Deputy Eldo Depree and Deputy Chester Favre were in charge of the investigation.

Saturn test jig due July 1

A three-stage Saturn rocket is to arrive July 1 for a check out of the test stands under construction at Marshall Space Flight Facility.

Known technically as the S-1B, it consists of full rocket dimension sections, joined by metal tubing and without engines. Its function is simply as a jig fixture to ascertain test stand tolerances and clearances.

The stage is being shipped by barge from North American Aviation's facility at Seal Beach, Calif., and will come via the Panama Canal to Michoud. It will be brought by river barge to the site.

Canals in the site have been filled to their level of 14 feet and a dredge boat was brought through the lock Tuesday to check it out as the activation effort continues. Dykes have been left around the stands where work is in progress.

Construction is almost completed on the general control building and the public affairs office is to move there later this month from its quarters in old Shorty's Club on Rt. 43 north. Technical instrumentation is yet to be installed in the control building.

Population at the NASA installation this week stood at 4,728, plus seven employees of the Corps of Engineers at the real estate acquisition office in Bay St. Louis. NASA has 96 on board, some of them on temporary assignment with the activation task force from the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville.

General Electric has 1,098 GE sub-contractors, number 303, Corps of Engineers 172, construction and installation workers 2,656, weather bureau 8, Boeing 28 and North American 291.

The Corps of Engineers at Mobile will open bids today on considerable site improvement work at MTF.

The job will include shaping, grading, and generally dressing up areas along Roads B, J, L, A and H. It will entail clearing about 75 acres, filling gullies, placing about 1,000 square yards of jute erosion control matting, and seeding over a 100 acres. It will also include placing piling on the Carter in his address, stated this was the first generation of young Bay St. Louis men since the War Between the States, to stay at home and work for their community.

Jaycees taking the leadership program are better men because of it, said Carter. He went on to stress the joy in competition and the ambition to succeed that must be present in each Jaycee to give that something extra required to get ahead.

Haas, in his first speech as president, outlined a seven-point program which included bringing to a successful conclusion all outstanding Jaycee programs increasing active membership. Also mentioned was a proposed development of a program of activities, a fund raising campaign, a survey of the community to establish its needs and the development of membership to permit them to take their place within the community.

Jaycee president Mrs. J.C. Koenen also making her inauguration address, stated the first duty of the Jaycees was assisting the Jaycees in the fulfillment of their projects.

2 Barthe work photos arrive

Richmond Barthe, native of Bay St. Louis sculptor, painter,
graphs of two of his works to serve as mementos for many of his local friends that requested them. The pictures were sent to Mrs. Katherine Wilson, librarian at City-County Library. Persons who expressed an interest in samples of Barthe's art work may obtain them at the Divine Word
Seminary gift shop for 15 cents.

Barthe selected two representative pieces for photographic representation. One is his soul-embodying sculpturing of St. Bernadette Soubirous. She was the young shepherd girl to whom the Blessed Virgin appeared in France at the end of last century. Barthe's renowned sculpturing has managed to capture all the nuances of a mystic in the facial features of Bernadette. His second selection sent to Bay St. Louis is a copy of the painting of the resurrected Christ.

Little League off and running

Coast Electric Kids were awarded a 5-0 default over Industrial Enameling, due to IE inability to field a complete team by starting time, and Seven-Up squeaked by Gulf Coast Express 11-10 in Monday's Little League competition.

Seven-Up's Gary Yarborough won hill honors as he hurled a four-hitter and Arthur Miller suffered his third loss of the season by allowing six hits. Collecting the key hits for Seven-Up were the Favre brothers, El and Neil, who both picked up extra base hits and singles.

Games played Saturday saw league leading Merchants Bank shut-out Gulf Coast Express 5-0 on Randy Starita's four hit pitching performance and Industrial Enameling pulled the stopper on Seven-Up 4-2 in the second game. Wayne Martin was top hitter for Merchants as he smashed a homer and a single. Losing Gulf Coast pitcher was Arthur Miller who hit a triple and a single for high GC batting honors. George Mayfield led the march for Industrial as he hurled a three-hitter and lined two of the three base hits for IE while Gary Yarborough hit two singles for a losing cause.

In Friday's contests, Seven-Up rallied in every inning to down Riemans 13-4 and Wayne Martin hurled a one-hitter in Merchants 8-1 victory over Coast Electric. The Favres, Ed and Neil, were top sticks for Seven-Up as lining three singles each, and Gary Yarborough also had three singles into the record book. Riemans' Darrell Carlot smashed a solo homer and a single for hot stick honors. Yarborough was the winning hurler while Chuckie Carver was charged with the loss.

In the second game, Randy Starita collected two doubles of the four hits lined by Merchants while David White lined the only single for Coast Electric.

Opening season games saw Riemans blast Coast Electric 7-4 while Industrial shipped Gulf Coast Express 5-2. Darrell Carlot started for Riemans as he fanned out of 15 batters and Kim Schult gave up eight hits for the loss.

In the second game, IE's George Mayfield recorded the win while Arthur Miller the loss.

In Pony League play

Anthony Ladner pitches perfect game

Fifteen year-old Anthony Ladner pitched a perfect game last Tuesday as Tubbury's Braves blanked Industrial Enameling 9-0 in the Pony League opening season game.

Fifteen batters faced Ladner in the five inning affair with nine of these going down swinging. The remaining six grounded out to the infield and popped to the outfield.

Industrial's Terry Phillips was the last batter to face Ladner in the bottom of the fifth and, with a full count, recorded a swing-and-a-miss.

Losing hurler was Gene Estapa, who also pitched a perfect game in last season's Little League play. Randy Ferguson came on in relief but was unable to stem the tide.

The Youth Center rallied five runs in the first inning to down Echo Scoops, last season's city champs, 5-1 in the second game. VC's Tommy Martin had the hottest stick of the afternoon as he lined the first homer of the season, while Echo's Mike Benigno had a double and

YIPE! We've frequently been misled, often make minor boo boos, and sometimes come up with a real goof, but never, absolutely never, have we been so far off as we were on what we had planned to use as the column lead this week. For some obscure reason the thought that 40 days of rain would inevitably follow even the slightest shower on June 1st was ingrained in our rather sluggish mental processes and recent daily showers had us quite ready to swear that it all had something to do with Saint Swithin's day of feast. As always, when in doubt, we did a hasty check via World Book (thank you Susie Weston) and discovered among other things that not only is Saint Swithin just about the most unsung Saint in history, but his feast day is actually July 15th, which really fouls up tossing blame for current precipitation on the late lamented gentleman who was bishop of Winchester and trusted councillor of Ethelwulf (no doubt some kinsman of Beowulf), King of the West Saxons, circa roughly 853 A.D. What effect this is supposed to have on rainfall is only explained by this poem:

St. Swithin's day if thou dost rain
For forty days it will remain;
St. Swithin's day if thou be fair,
For forty days 'twill rain no fair.

And now that we have suffered through our lesson in medieval history, let's catch up on current data!

The event of the week was of course the marriage of two of the nicest (and if we call them kids, we'll be in real trouble), so we'll safely say young people in town, Edith Traub and Jim Johnston.

Our congratulations

The Gods were kind, weatherwise, and the sun shone brightly on the radiant bride who not only made her lovely gown of Chantilly lace and chiffon but also that of her maid of honor Mildred Parker and flower girl Shelley Johnston. We won't leave out the men, Jim, his father, Bill, and Warren, the bride's pater, were most handsome in summer formal complete with sharp black cummerbunds. Edith and Stell both looked much too youthful to have a marriageable daughter and son respectively. Edith chose lace in a lovely shade of blue and Stell's rose lace and whipped cream was most becoming. Bill's mother, Mrs. Joe Balk, here from Sioux Falls, S.D., for the occasion wore a pink lace frock which harmonized with the other outfits just beautifully.

Just a few spotted in church and at the reception held on the Traub's lush green lawn were Alice and John Scaffie, Margie and Cyril Glover, Captain Charles Traub, Edith's grandfather, of course; Iva May McDonald, Mrs. C.C. McDonald, Winnie and Jimmy McDonald, and adorable offspring, who incidentally helped serve refreshments; and an added note Winnie and Jimmy are once again on the stork's itinerary: Dot Russell escorted by son Ronnie; Mary Alice and Joe Benvenuti, Valda Evans, daughter Alice Vivian and husband Bill Pitcairn, Rose and John Rutherford, Emilie and Walter Rausch; Pat Fayard, Pat Pitilo, Gladys Prosser, Ethel Clark, Lydia and Hippo Phillips, Gerry Benigno, Mildred Hamilton, Jimmy Larroux Jenny Trapani, Jane and Billy Scarborough, Ethel Garriga, who accompanied your reporter as husband Lathon had to do things with traffic, although he, Bob Goodsell, Jimmy Favre and Eric Fecaise did come in for some of the delicious food, cake and gingerale at the wind up! Of course there were many, many more, but as always we can just recall so many names and no more!

We have high hopes of meeting one of our most faithful correspondents, Frances Lawton, in the flesh as she added a note, on her most appreciated get well card, to the effect that she is planning a trip to Chicago and will visit on the coast enroute.

Also very much enjoyed meeting another of whom we had heard much, but had never seen. Mrs. Alfred McCaleb who introduced us to her sister, Mrs. Monroe, were planning costumes for a luncheon Saturday night but we forgot to ask them who was giving the party.

Chief Warrant Officer Earl D. Zeller, and children Bill and Ryn, were guests of Mrs. Zeller's mother, Mrs. J. Cude Rousseau, at her Jeff Davis Avenue home. They left Monday, June 14, for Guam where they will be stationed for two years. Mr. Zeller is a veteran of 24 years service in the U.S. Air Force, having begun his career as a Private.

While our thoughts are in the Jeff Davis Avenue vicinity we'll hurl right into ANIMAL NOTES, lest we forget.

MR. AND MRS. ANTHONY SERIO

Animal Notes

Betty (Mrs. Lamar) Otis has a lovely male puppy for any family needing a pet. He's about six months old, pure white and blessedly of the short haired variety: sweet, friendly and she would love to keep him if she had a fenced yard—but as all puppies, little Snowy, (christened on the spur of the moment) wanders and tries the patience of his neighbors. Anyone willing to give him a happy home need only call Betty or your doggy reporter and hasty arrangements will be made. Still on animals, one of Bill Favre's alligators strayed into long suffering Karen and Cal Smith's yard and just about ruined Karen's day, month and probably year. The near catastrophe, after lightning struck their home last Monday, didn't do much for her nerves and the sight of the six foot amphibian ambling through the shrubbery was just about the end. However, Bill retrieved his pet, Pam and Peggy emerged unscathed, and we think all is well!

Travel news

Our friend, he of the difficult to recall surname Smith, Herb, that is, won a few bucks in his brief sojourn in Monaco, but finds Arabia quite mysterious possibly due to the fact that his interpreter has fluent knowledge of Spanish, Arabic, German, maybe French and Hebrew, but is somewhat lacking in knowledge of English! Shannon and Tom, and all the little Roseberrys, are apparently upsetting the schedule of the entire World's Fair during their tour. . . two years in Mississippi have so slowed down their actions that at least another year of exhibitions will be necessary to allow those following to see all points of interest!

League leaders win again

After being scoreless for four frames Trapani's Knock-Knock staged a three run fifth and seventh inning rally to double Jerry and Mary's 6-3 and Chateau Seu moved into second place by posting a 5-4 win over Catholic Youth Organization Men's softball play on Monday.

Trapani's tallies in the fifth came when Ray Chliche was awarded a base on ball, Billy Rhodes and Ronnie Artigues singled, Ned Heath reached first on a fielders choice, Jerry Seuzeneau sacrificed driving in a run, Jake Morreale walked, and Gus Aime drove in another run with a tap to short field. Jerry and Mary's after being down 3-0 came back in the sixth when Harvey Mitchell singled and advanced to second on G. Smith's fly ball to left. Terry Hall lined down the right-field side to score Mitchell and Vernon Bermond drove to deep center, and watched the ball bounce out of the center fielders glove, to score Hall, and Bermond raced home as the ball got away from the third sack-er. In the bottom of the seventh, Artigues led off with a two-sacker, Heath singled, Morreale was given an intentional walk and pitcher Gus Aime with the sacks loaded smashed to right advancing two runs and Bobby Boudin singled bringing in the final tally (6-3).

Aime claimed his fifth mound victory for the season while John Huling (1-3) was charged with the loss.

Artigues and Boudin were top sticks for the Knock-Knock as they both lined a double and a single while Mitchell was the only J and M man to get two hits.

In the second contest of the twin-bill, Chateau drew first blood as they added two runs on the scoreboard in the first stanza. CYO moved on one hit in the second for one run and advanced again in the third when two runs crossed the plate to give CYO a 3-2 advantage.

144 FARMS CONSERVE

Agricultural conservation program practices were carried out on 144 farms in Hancock County in 1964, Tammy R. Shaw, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, reports. These farms represent about 19,633 acres of farmland.

In the sixth Chateau's booming bats blasted out six straight hits for three runs. It was do or die for CYO in the final stanza

PERFECT GAME -

Pony League pitcher Anthony Ladner smiles in triumph as the last man goes down swinging after a full count to climax his first perfect game against Industrial Enameling last Tuesday. Ladner fanned nine out of fifteen opponents allowing others to line out to in and outfields.

as Alvin Ladner filed out, Mike Lee singled, Dick Watts lined out, Johnny Panton reached first on an error scoring Lee, Bob Hinks beat the throw at first from third and with two out and one run in, Nodde Ladner filed out to deep center to retire the sides.

Chateau's Mike Strong, 2-3, Raymond Strong, 2-2, and Jim Mayfield, 2-3 were top sticks while CYO's Sam Alliston's and Watts' doubles were high for the losers.

Mayfield (4-1) was winning hurler while Ladner (1-1) was the loser.

Chateau Seu take first annual at Pearlington park

Jack Seuzeneau's Chateau Seu shook off Southern Realty in a close 7-6 game to first place in the first annual Pearlington Softball Tournament held in the new Amusement Park over the weekend.

Seven to six seemed to be the magic numbers for the day as Southern Realty stopped CYO 7-6 and Chateau Seu squeaked by Rif-Raff of Picayune 7-6 in the semi-finals.

Opening contests saw SR down St. John's of Lakeshore 10-3, CYO tounce Jerry and Mary's 12-8, Rif-Raff lower the boom on Travis' Lounge 9-1 and Chateau beat Pearlington Barber Shop 15-3.

Southern R. trounce Pearlington

Shutouts and hits were plentiful last week in Men's Bay Softball play as three out of four games resulted in shutouts and one squad collected 39 hits for two nights work.

Friday night events saw Southern Realty plaster Pearlington Barber Shop 17-0 as the Realtors pounded out 24 hits and in the night-cap St. John's stopped Travis' Lounge 14-0.

SR's southpaw Cliff Vogt and J.T. Ladner collected three for three trips to the plate by way of rightfield fence and James Ginn, third-sacker, blasted 3-5 while PBS' five hits came from Ronnie Breland, G.E. Givens, Charles Bennett, Chandler Reynolds and Mark Wilkerson.

Claude Yarborough went five innings for SR for the victory allowing two hits and Donald Caldwell, SR coach-player, finished the game allowing three runs. Reynolds, (0-1) was the loser.

Pilot given 60-day flying suspension

A Federal Aviation Agency board of inquiry, in passing judgment on a privately owned aircraft accident which occurred on April 17, has suspended the pilot's license of Henry D. Evans for a period of 60-days.

A re-qualification test will be conducted at the end of this period.

Evans, with passenger Louis J. Moreau, Jr., in the rear seat of his single engine Aeronca Champ aircraft, crashed on take-off from Hancock County airfield at about 4 p.m. on the day concerned. Taken to Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans for surgery as a result of injuries received, he later moved to that city for continued medical attention.

American Legion on Thursday, the day after he celebrated the 29th anniversary of Pitalo's Grocery.

A belated happy birthday goes to Big John Rutherford who cut his 39th, we're sure, cake at a party at his Main Street home Saturday, June 12.

Scoop
It is with much pleasure that we are first to formally announce the approaching marriage of Adele Parks and Vern Smith. Adele and Vern have purchased Norma and John Dougherty's "other" Nicholson Avenue home and will take the fatal step sometime before the month ends, but we fear we won't have the exact date until after the big event as they fear their little buddies are too full of tricks to let them know in advance.

Dot (Mrs. Dan) Russell says the note about her bottle collection brought on a double contribution from Bob Kemery, who thinks she's missing a bet as the ones she's most excited about come empty!

The bosses, Joan and Red Glass, Jake Jacob and MSCW summer reporter Carrie Lee Scarborough, report a wonderful time at the Mississippi Press Convention last Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Buena Vista. And best of all, they returned with some "baco" namely a first place award for excellence in the use of pictures.

Frank Trapani and Jack Lacey had a wonderful time on their recent trip to Houston to take in major league games in the Astrodome. While there they chatted with Sandy Kofax among other celebrities.

From my notes

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lee, and their son and daughter, who have made their home on Ulman Avenue for the past 17 months, will receive this issue of the Echo in Selma, Ala. The Lees, who came here from Knoxville, Tenn., have hopes of returning as they said they loved living in Bay St. Louis.

Here for vacation are Jane and Billy Scarborough, and three children, of Jackson, who are visiting their respective parents, the Forrest Favres and W.A. Scarboroughs.

Marti (Mrs. John) Glover and children Bud, Diana, Merrily and Johanna left Thursday for Kansas City to visit Marti's mother Merle Stephenson. They boarded the L. and N. here but will return in great style in a "new" car, a gift from Marti's sister.

More vacationers—Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Strong of Tampa, Fla. spent last week with his mother, Mrs. C.M. Strong.

Eddie Marquez acquired a suntan and averaged one flounder per night during his week away from duty at the post office.

Rose and Herb Discherry were among Waveland weekenders.

Also here to attend the Traub-Johnston wedding were Bill's niece and nephew Tibbie and Jim Martell of St. Louis, Mo.

Betty and Anthony Protti and children were weekend guests of Betty's mother, Mrs. Anthony Beaumont.

Ida Mullen of New Orleans will arrive Sunday to spend Father's Day with her pappy Eddie Virgilio and wife Yvonne.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS A- LONG THE WAY—Sailboats, yachts, speed hulls, skiffs darting here and there increasing in number almost daily in proportion to the influx of new residents; two white frocked suns happily viewing the cloudless horizon and the clipped accents of our "Yankers" (no offense intended as we hail originally from the northern part of the South, at Nashville, Tenn.) blending with the accustomed local drawl.

Captain Martin W. Sebo, maintenance control officer, 1956th communications control group, U.S. Army, stationed in Japan, has been presented with a letter of appreciation for his work in connection with the Office of Information's English Conversation classes, it was learned recently.

Married to the former Miss Loretta Lader of Rocky Hill, they have two children, Mark William, 2, and Rhonda Marie, 5-months. The family has been with him during his three year tour of duty in Asia and expect to visit her sister, Mrs. Forrest H. Necaise, Rt. 1, Pass Christian, upon their return to the U.S. next month.

Senior citizen housing loans

Max H. Seem, Department of Agriculture supervisor, recently gave details concerning loans available to elderly citizens for the purpose of building, buying or repairing homes. Some said citizens who are 62 years and over, living in a rural community of 2,500 or less, may be eligible for a $3-year loan, bearing a 4 percent interest, to buy or build a home. Home repair loans, also available under the Farmers Home Administration program Seem reported.
